FOURTEENTH
ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
COMMITTEE OF THE
CLONMEL MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,
TO THE
ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING, HELD IN THE
LECTURE-ROOM,
ON THURSDAY, THE 17TH OF JANUARY, 1856.

A review of the state of the Institution, for the past year, presents no very marked features, either for congratulation, or discouragement.

It is much to be lamented, indeed, that the Public do not seem, as yet, to have appreciated as they ought, the numerous and important advantages, which it is now calculated to confer. It is true, that your Committee have not to lament any falling off in the support it has received during the past year; but they have not experienced that marked increase of interest on the part of our Citizens, which its superior efficiency, and a season of great commercial activity, had led them to anticipate.

An Institution containing within itself an extensive and well-selected Library; an excellent News-Room; Schools of the first order for imparting the elementary principles of Art and Literature, and which is capable of a much greater extension, so as to become one of the first of Provincial Seminaries, should enlist, not only the kind wishes, but the self interested support of all classes of the community.

It is to be feared, however, that much of the support even at present tendered to it, is attributable to the former motive, rather than the latter.

And however amiable and useful, benevolence may be, for fostering such Institutions, in their infancy, your Committee would much prefer, to see all subscribing members deriving from it, a fair equivalent for their money, well convinced that its ultimate stability must mainly depend on its extended and permanent utility.

MEMBERS.

That its usefulness has not been, as your Committee regret, sufficiently appreciated, appears from the fact, that though the Library has been so much improved, and largely augmented, a proportionate increase has not taken place in the list of subscribers; the entire number enrolled for the past year, exceeding by 22 only, those on the books in 1854, while in the collective amount of their subscriptions, there is a much less accession. And if we compare them with the number of supporters of which this Institution could boast in 1844, we will find a considerable deficiency.

The number of Members for the past year are as follows:

Life Members,	52
30s. Subscribers,	8
20s. " 	79
12s. " 	24
10s. " 	99
6s. " 	14
4s. " 	14

Total.....290

The Subscriptions for the year amounted to £110 8s. 9d., against the sum of £107 10s. 11d., for the preceding year.

LIBRARY.

To this department of the Institute, there have been added during the year, 122 valuable and well-selected volumes, which, with nearly 400 added the year previous, embrace a large proportion of the more valuable recent Literature, and augment our stock to the very respectable amount of 2807. In the circulation, your Committee are happy to report a marked improvement, it having amounted to 7060 volumes, being 710 over that of the previous year. And Notwithstanding this free use of them, it redounds much to the credit of the Librarian, and the Members generally, that again at the annual revision, not a single volume was found missing.

Your Committee beg leave to add that a new and improved Catalogue, to which the Library Sub-Committee have devoted much time and labour, is now being printed, which it is hoped, will create a new interest in, and extend the utility of this department of the Institute.

NEWS-ROOM.

The News-Room continues, as your Committee are happy to report, to maintain its position and attractions, though it has not extended its advantages during the past year. The pecuniary support from Members amounts to £26 16s. 0d. for 1855, against a like sum of £27 19s. 6d. for 1854; while the sale of Papers realized £8 4s. 7d., making in all an income of £35 0s. 7d. against an expenditure of £33 14s 2d. for the past year.

LECTURES.

On the subject of Lectures, your Committee regret that they cannot report more favourably; and if any of the Members be disposed to blame them as apathetic in this matter, they have only to plead that past experience has taught them caution. An application to the Dublin Committee of Provincial Lectures, procured them, on advancing the sum of £10 about this time last year, the services of Professor Harkness, of the Queen's College, Cork; but whether it were owing to the learnedly abstruse and strictly scientific mode of illustrating his subject, adopted by that gentleman, or the want of interest felt in it by the Inhabitants, in a financial point of view, at least, these Lectures were a decided failure, netting only the small sum of £4 7s., whilst they cost your Committee altogether the sum of £14 15s. 3d., leaving a balance of £10 8s. 3d. against the Institute.

In their engagement with Mrs. Butler, however, your Committee were more fortunate. The proceeds of her night's reading amounted to £12 17s. 6d., and the expenses to £5 19s. 0d., thus leaving a gain of £6 18s. 6d. In the very able Lectures of Mr. Jameson, on Political Economy, Science was again unappreciated; the whole proceeds of six Lectures amounting only to 17s., and the expenses to £2 12s. 0d., thus leaving a loss of £1 15s. 0d.

This however was far more than reimbursed by the Dramatic Readings of Mrs. Fanny Kemble, whose one night realized the sum of £33 18s. 0d., against an expenditure of 23l. 15s., leaving £10 3s. to the credit of the Institution.

These are facts, from which a future Committee may draw an instructive inference, and from which it would appear, that it is not deep scientific research, but the higher qualities of mental grace and intellectual refinement, which will prove the more attractive to the public.

LECTURE-ROOM.

If, however, the financial results of Lectures have not on the whole, been very advantageous to the Institute, the letting of the Lecture-Room has netted the considerable sum of £31 11s. 0d., free of all expenses, save that of Gas.

And while on this subject, in order to prevent all misunderstanding for the future, your Committee feel called on to observe, that since the passing of the Resolution in 1851, authorising your Committee to raise a revenue to the Institute, by the hiring of this Room; they have regarded themselves simply as trustees for the Members, bound to carry that resolution into effect, and in order to avoid any charge of partiality, or of being identified in any way, with the sentiments, or performances of those using it for the time, they have invariably treated it as a purely commercial transaction, in all cases charging either a specified amount in money, or if thought desirable, claiming for our members free admission to the performances.

This rule is obviously so appropriate in itself, and has hitherto been found to work so advantageously, that your Committee would be slow in recommending any departure from it, save it might be to fix some minimum amount of charges for the guidance of your Committee, as, for instance, One Guinea per night, which, considering the superior advantages of the room, could in no case be deemed unreasonable.

SCHOOLS.

We come now to speak of the action of this Institute, in one of its most important departments, namely, its Schools, and of these the first in order are the DAY and EVENING SCHOOLS, under the excellent superintendence of Mr. Robert Joyce.

Of the superior mode of instruction, and the quality of information, there imparted, your Committee feel that in justice to that gentleman, they cannot speak too highly. It is deeply to be regretted, however, that a much larger number of pupils has not availed themselves of these advantages.

In the Day School, the entire pupils enrolled for the year were 80, averaging in their daily attendance 29, and contributing in fees the sum of £15 13s. 2d.; in the Night School 110 pupils were enrolled, averaging throughout the year 19 in attendance, and contributing in fees the sum of £7 18s. 0d. These figures show no increase of pupils over last year, though they do a small item in the amount of contributions.

At the close of the year a searching examination of the pupils of both Schools, was made by the Teacher, under the superintendence of the Committee, and Premiums were awarded after the public examinations, to 20 of the most deserving.

It is right to observe that due provision is made for the religious and moral, as well as secular instruction, of the pupils in these Schools.

SCHOOL OF ART.

Having had over twelve months experience of the working of this department, the results have been, as your Committee are most happy to report, on the whole most satisfactory; save in one feature, the gradual decline of what was at first the largest and most promising, namely, the Artizan class. This is to be attributed no doubt in some degree to the length of time and regular attention, it requires to attain much proficiency—a time and attention which such pupils can ill bestow—partly, perhaps, to the little pecuniary advantage which such proficiency could confer, in a community like ours so little occupied with manufactures.

For the stability of the other classes we are mainly indebted to the superior abilities of our Teacher, Mr. Healy, and the judicious arrangements entered into with the Commissioners of the National Board. During the first term ending January 15th, 1855, we had, as appears by last years Report 91 pupils, who contributed the sum of 31*l.* 12*s.* 0*d.*—the second term there were 63 pupils, whose united payments were 25*l.* 12*s.* 0*d.*—the third term 53 pupils, paying 21*l.* 14*s.* 0*d.*—the fourth term 48 pupils, contributing 17*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.*, and the present term 40, paying 16*l.* 4*s.* 0*d.*, making in all 112*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*

We are happy to report also, that out of six competitors, whose Drawings were forwarded to Marlborough-House, London, to the Annual Exhibition, three of these were successful in obtaining Medals. As mentioned in the last Report, B. Osborne, Esq., kindly promised the sum of 20*l.* for Premiums to this School, which will be competed for, so soon as the Drawings are returned from London; and the Committee are happy to announce that a like sum has been generously promised by R. Malcomson, Esq., for a similar purpose for the ensuing year.

CLASSICAL SCHOOL.

In accordance with the suggestions contained in the Reports of the two preceding years, and to supply a want which was said to be much felt in this town; your Committee during the last year, after duly advertising their intentions, opened a School for Classical instruction in this Institute, at reasonable terms, under the superintendence of William Sullivan, Esq., an A.B. of Trinity College, Dublin; but owing perhaps to a misapprehension of the wants of the community, the measure has not been attended with that success which was anticipated. It was deemed that the opportunity of a Home Education, in Classical instruction, combining cheapness, with the advantage of parental surveillance, would be duly appreciated by the Inhabitants of Clonmel; your Committee proposed to themselves the honorable purpose of laying the foundation, and rearing up within these walls a seminary of learning worthy of the intelligence and liberality of their fellow-citizens, and in unision with the Town's Commercial importance. They do not wish to be compelled to admit, on less than six months trial, that they have failed. But it will certainly become the duty of their successors to retrace the steps that have been taken, should they not meet with much more prompt and decided encouragement.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

During its third session, the Literary Society continued its Meetings with very considerable interest, and praise-worthy exertions. It has entered on its fourth session, but it has not certainly met the support it merited; yet we hope its Members may not be discouraged, as their past exertions gave ample promise of future usefulness.

MUSEUM.

On this subject your Committee, for the past year have not been enabled to do anything. They introduce it here, however, again to call the attention, of the public, and to direct that of their successors to the subject.

INCOME AND EXPENDITURE.

Finally, with respect to the all important subject of our financial position, your Committee are happy to say that we are not in a worse state than at the close of last year.

Of the special fund subscribed two years ago for the purposes set forth in your twelfth Annual Report, there still remains the sum of 33*l.* 16*s.* 5*d.*, at the disposal of your Committee—11*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.* having been expended out of that fund, during the past year, for incidental expenses, connected with the School of Art.

Whilst the regular income for 1855 has amounted to the very considerable sum of 385*l.* 5*s.* 1½*d.*, making with a balance on hand from last year of 21*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.*, the amount of 406*l.* 10*s.* 10½*d.*, against an expenditure of 398*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.*, leaving a balance still on hands of 8*l.* 0*s.* 9¾*d.* On the other hand, our liabilities which amounted at the close of last year to the large sum of 91*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.*, have been reduced to the more moderate sum of 75*l.* 18*s.* 0*d.*, being a reduction of 15*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.*, and indicating a new feature in the working of this Establishment, namely, of the excess of income over expenditure for the current year, which your Committee sincerely hope may prove permanent. On this result at length attained, your Committee may be permitted to congratulate the Friends and Subscribers to the Institute. And in concluding this account of their stewardship, they would respectfully point the attention of their successors in office, to the imperative duty of preserving themselves aloof from all suspicion of any sectarian or political bias, and conducting this Institute on the broad basis of the general good.

The following are the Names of the Members of the Committee whose places remain to be filled up according to Rule 4.

Eugene A. Conwell, Robert Daniell, William Nunan, Thomas S. Prossor, Edmond Power, William Pollard, and Henry Williams.

ALBION

Life Insurance Company.

INSTITUTED A.D. 1805.

THE ALBION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has now been established half a century, and has paid in claims upon its policies upwards of ONE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS.

The leading advantages of the ALBION may be noticed as follows:—

Security, arising from an ample Capital, totally independent of the Premium Fund, and a highly respectable and wealthy body of proprietors.

The Policy-holder is thus secured from the possibility of losing any portion either of the sum originally insured or of the Additions subsequently made to his Policy.

In all Mutual Offices the Premium Fund constitutes the only resource of the Society; the premiums paid by each member are liable for any deficiency that may at any time be found to exist in the assets of the Society, and the Bonuses allotted at one period may, if required, be withdrawn, at another. This is not the case in the Albion. Every Bonus allotted is irrevocable, and the Company's capital is liable for its amount, as fully as for the original sum insured; although no interest is charged for the Capital so pledged.

Moderate Premiums. The premiums charged by the ALBION have been revised from the most accurate data, and will be found at the younger ages, to be lower than the rates usually charged by other old established offices. Comparing the ALBION premium at age 21, with that of an office giving the largest Bonus in reduction of Premium, it will be found that the same Premium required by that office to insure £1000 would insure in the ALBION £1140; thus giving an immediate Bonus of £140, exclusive of the profits allotted every three years.

Immediate Participation in Profits. The usual practice is to require five or more annual premiums to have been paid before allowing any share in the profits. In the ALBION, the policy-holder is at once admitted to the participating class, and receives his full share of the ensuing distribution of profits, in proportion to the amount of premium he has paid, and without being placed at any disadvantage in respect of older policies.

Parties effecting Insurances in the ALBION have the option of electing one or other of the following modes of applying their respective shares of the profits; the election made being binding for future divisions. viz:—

A RETURN OF PREMIUM IN CASH.

AN EQUIVALENT ADDITION TO THE POLICY.

AN EQUIVALENT REDUCTION OF THE PREMIUM.

The Cash Bonus, hitherto paid, has exceeded 20 per cent., or more than one-fifth, of the total amount of premium paid from the commencement of the insurance.

The Additions to Sums Insured have averaged 40 per cent. and in some cases have amounted to 68 per cent. on the total amount of premium paid. This Bonus will be augmented at each future division, and cannot be affected by any losses the Company may hereafter sustain.

Reduction of Premium. Every reduction of premium declared by the ALBION is also permanent and guaranteed; being, in fact, an independent annuity for the whole term of life. It is, therefore, of course, equivalent to a much larger temporary reduction, according to the usual practice in other offices.

The reductions of premium upon policies of 9 years' standing, vary from nearly 9 to more than 22 per cent. per annum for life. Each further reduction will, of course, bear a still larger proportion to the Cash Bonus, as the age of the life insured increases.

ALBION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY—continued.

It is important for the public to bear in mind that the Bonus declared by this Company is bona fide realized Profit, and is in no way contingent upon the future. Not the slightest encroachment has been made upon the Profit Fund appertaining to the Bonus of subsequent years. New Policies in the ALBION will not, therefore, stand in a disadvantageous position in respect of older ones, as is the case in many other offices.

Triennial Division of Profits. The division of Profits in the ALBION, takes place every Three Years.

No Change is made for Sea Risk on passengers between Europe and North America, north of 36° north latitude.

Foreign Residence is allowed without extra premium, in any part of Europe or America, north of 36°, California excepted. Also in New Zealand, Van Dieman's Land, Cape of Good Hope, and Australia, south of latitude 29°, on payment for Sea risk: the Gold Fields excepted. Insurances are also granted in many other parts of the world.

Military and Naval Officers are insured without extra premium, unless in actual service.

Indian Officers and Civilians are insured at rates expressly calculated for the East Indies.

Half Credit Policies are granted; one-half of the annual premium for the first five years remaining as a Loan upon the Policy. (This system applies only to Whole Life Policies.)

Policy Stamp-duty, and Medical Fees are paid by the Company.

Claims paid thirty days after proof of death.
